Rev. Dr. Bernard Lonergan S.J.,
St. Mary's Hall,
Boston College,
Brookline, Mass.

Dear Dr. Lonergan,

As you may know, the XIVth International Congress of the International Association for the History of Religions will be held at the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, from August 17 to 21, 1980. One of its Sections will be devoted to the Philosophy of Religion, and I am writing this letter to you as Co-ordinator for this Section. Professor Cathleen Going, of the Thomas More Institute in Montreal is my colleague on this committee.

We are enquiring whether it would be possible for you to present a paper to one of the meetings of our Section. I regret very much that the IAHR does not provide any of us with funds and that in consequence I cannot even offer you the customary speaker's expenses, but unfortunately this would seem to be the problem now with all international congresses.

I understand that Professor Going may in fact see you in person shortly, and if this is so she can speak about the general arrangements for the Congress; but we would be most honoured if our Section could include you as the major speaker for one of its sessions. It would also be our hope that there would be other papers relating to your work that would be submitted to us and included in that session.

We do hope that you can consider this; and of course we would be happy to answer any enquiries you might have about plans for the congress.

Yours very sincerely,

Terence Penelhum,
Professor of Philosophy
and Religious Studies, Director,
The Calgary Institute for the Humanities.
