

Theology - Logico-theological context remember that explanation qualifies explains depends each particular logico-theological statement paradigm does not change the thing that is known knowledge of the thing but uses knowledge of the thing to reach another further more accurate knowledge paradigms

system: inadequate, does not fit facts, all of them inherent inherent: inauthenticity, dishonesty, corruption

Ositer's Method

1 Concentrate on turning points Theorization that leads into dogma, theory subsequent = prima two sequences of repetition minor variations / adaptations comparative method

- applied to same works of highly intelligent Aquinas
- applied to measures of writers

2 understanding the history / the doctrine → understanding the doctrine understanding the history explicit - acknowledge what was stated explicitly implicit = hypothetical reconstruction → vitas out, T. centuri, DPCA p. 128, Baillet genetic - account for differences in data what of argument that contradicts previous position account for all of them diachronical - opposed developments rationalism - Adam En 18th

 : porro x' d - di 71 d 701 | immediate
 : primum primum primum primum | mediate

Whilsonian Psychology memo 2314

in particular understanding judgment

Systematic Theology

Systematic relates contemporary context to end dogma intellectual capacities fructifications

1° you are using the mind but you are not just following the dogma you know exactly what it is and does basic unambiguities $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{using the mind but you are} \\ \text{supposing saying that it is something else} \end{array} \right.$ means

2° structure of knowing is isomorphic to structure of propositional knowledge three partial acts \rightarrow an knowing three partial objects \rightarrow an known analysis is limited = structure

3° of analogy comes from naturalistic epistemology you have to have the natural knowledge

Intents
 It is urgent debit, perform

4° analogy involves a twofold guarantee - good act = just understanding
