

Radix dialecticae

1° Blondel opus Morcan

2° Jenshit : Position & Counter-position

d Position express "pure desire to know" in accord to <sup>words</sup> original of pure desire

C-P express the de facto subject p C-P and to their own elimination - de facto subject is in conflict to original words original

y Elimination of CP / was only an dialectic logic Expression of Posit / but really a transformation of the subject

3° Plato : dialectic is aristic went & try to answer all off fairly - dialogue on current situation favouring Positens

Product of dialectic
cosmic historic

4° Aristotle : dialectic is reflection the periphrase subject reflecting on the sequence of process

5° Aristotle is History of Thought

d form of the history that is written y intelligibility of the history written about